Quality Standards for Expanded Learning Programs

The standards should be considered in the context of the five Learning in After School and Summer Principles<sup>3</sup> which clearly communicate how expanded learning programs contribute to children's learning.

Point-of-Service Quality Standards

- 1 Safe and supportive environment
The program provides a safe and nurturing environment that supports the developmental, social-emotional and physical needs of all students. Page 7
- 2 Active and engaged learning
Program design and activities reflect active, meaningful and engaging learning methods that promote collaboration and expand student horizons. Page 8
- 3 Skill building
The program maintains high expectations for all students, intentionally links program goals and curricula with 21st century skills and provides activities to help students achieve mastery. Page 9
- 4 Youth voice and leadership
The program provides and supports intentional opportunities for students to play a meaningful role in program design and implementation, and provides ongoing access to authentic leadership roles. Page 10
- 5 Healthy choices and behaviors

Learning in Afterschool & Summer Principles

- 1 Learning that is Active – Learning and memory recall of new knowledge is strengthened through different exposures – seeing, hearing, touching, and doing. Afterschool learning should be the result of activities that involve young people in “doing” – activities that allow them to be physically active, stimulate their innate curiosity, and that are hands-on and project-based. (CA Quality Standards #2, 3, & 5)
- 2 Learning that is Collaborative – Afterschool and summer programs should help young people build team skills that include listening to others, supporting group learning goals, and resolving differences and conflicts. Collaborative learning happens when learners engage in a common task where each individual depends on and is accountable to each other. (CA Quality Standards #1, 2, 3, & 8)

Learning in Afterschool & Summer Principles

- 3 Learning that is Meaningful – Learning is meaningful when youth have some ownership over the learning topic, the means to assess their own progress, and when the learning is relevant to their own interests, experiences, and the real world in which they live. Community and cultural relevance is important to all youth. (CA Quality Standards #2, 3, & 4)
- 4 Learning that Supports Mastery – If young people are to learn the importance and joy of mastery, they need the opportunity to learn and practice a full sequence of skills that will allow them to become “really good at something.” Afterschool and summer activities should be explicitly sequenced and designed to promote the layering of new skills. (CA Quality Standard #3)

Learning in Afterschool & Summer Principles

- 5 Learning that Expands Horizons - Afterschool and summer programs should provide learning opportunities that take youth beyond their current experience and expand their horizons. They should go beyond the walls of their facilities to increase young people's knowledge of their surrounding neighborhood and the larger global community. (CA Quality Standards #2 & 3)
