

ANNOUNCING SOCIAL FOREST: OAKS OF TOVAANGAR ONLINE CURRICULUM

Photo by Elon Schoenholz Photography, courtesy of The Broad

The Broad has developed an online curriculum connected to the exhibition, Joseph Beuys: In Defense of Nature and the reforestation project, Social Forest: Oaks of Tovaangar, centering Tongva culture through the lens of people, place, science, and art, as part of the Getty's PST ART initiative. For participating LAUSD teachers, a Schoology-friendly curriculum has been created within the LAUSD Climate Literacy Schoology group.

The museum encourages you to use this curriculum with your students to provide an in-depth view of the Tongva culture of Southern California, the topography of the Los Angeles basin, Beuys's art practice, and the different intersections of each topic.

Enter Site

ART &
SCIENCE
COLLIDE

Presented by

Getty

Photo by Ben Gibbs

2025 ART + STORY, ART + ACTIVISM SCHOOL PROGRAMS

Registration is now open for January – May 2025

Please note: Bus scholarships are available on a first-come, first-served basis for Title 1 schools within 15 miles of the museum.

Learn More

For more information, please contact schoolvisits@thebroad.org.

Special Thanks to Leading Partner

EASTWESTBANK

THE BROAD®