Pathways to Earning a California Teaching Credential

TRADITIONAL	TEACHER RESIDENCY	INTERNSHIP	PROVISIONAL PERMIT → INTERN
In a Traditional Teacher Preparation program, you learn how to teach in a supervised student teaching experience and earn a Preliminary credential before becoming a full time teacher of record.	In a Teacher Residency Program , you apprentice for a full year with a mentor teacher while working toward a Preliminary credential. During this time, you earn a stipend in exchange for committing to work for the district for four years following the teaching residency year. LAUSD RESIDENCY PARTNERS: CSUDH*, CSULA*, CSUN, UCLA, USC, and Alder Graduate School of Education	In a Teaching Internship Program , you simultaneously teach while you are in school earning your teaching credential. You work under an intern teacher contract, you are paid as the teacher of record, and you receive full benefits. After your internship, you earn a Preliminary credential in the subject you are teaching. Note: internships are usually 1-3 years.	In a Provisional Permit to Intern Credential Route , you teach under a Provisional Internship Permit or Short Term Staff Permit . The permit is good for the duration of the academic year, during which time you must 1) meet the subject matter requirement , and 2) begin an intern credential program. (see ← intern route for next steps) This route is time-bound. If you do not make progress toward an intern credential in the necessary timeframe, you are in danger of no longer having any options to remain employed as a full-time teacher
REQUIREMENTS
1) Enrollment in an accredited teacher preparation program 2) Passage of the CBEST/meet Basic Skills Requirement 3) Passage of the CSET/meet Subject Matter Requirement 4) Pass the US Constitution Exam (or equivalent coursework) note: if you graduated from a CSU, you have already met the requirement through coursework requirements for graduation 5) Student Teaching (Unpaid) 6) Completion of Full or Part Time coursework before becoming a teacher	1) Enrollment in a partner residency program 2) Pass the CBEST/meet Basic Skills Requirement 3) Pass the CSET/meet Subject Matter Requirement 4) Pass the US Constitution Exam (or equivalent coursework) note: if you graduated from a CSU, you have already met the requirement through coursework requirements for graduation 5) Complete coursework, including any applicable additional state assessments (edTPA, calTPA, RICA)	1) Apply to and be accepted into an approved intern program & complete all pre-service requirements (usually a semester) 2) Pass the CBEST/meet Basic Skills Requirement 3) Pass the CSET/meet Subject Matter Requirement 4) Pass the US Constitution Exam (or equivalent coursework) note: if you graduated from a CSU, you have already met the requirement through coursework requirements for graduation 5) In order to earn a Preliminary credential while you are an intern, you must complete coursework, including any applicable additional state assessments (edTPA, calTPA, RICA)	1) Pass the CBEST/meet Basic Skills Requirement 2) Submit transcripts for subject matter competency in the subject you hope to teach (at least 18 semester units). (Note: Order official transcripts as soon as you consider teaching with an emergency permit as it can take some time and delay onboarding) 3) While you have an emergency permit, you must prepare for & pass the CSET/meet Subject Matter Competency (IF YOU HAVE NOT YET DONE SO) Once you become a teacher with an emergency permit, please see the Teaching Internship path for moving toward an intern credential.
