

Colonial Incident Card Scenario 5

While on the space colony, people think that the environment is not being protected in this new colony and the indigenous organisms are paying the price of the exploration. What rules and regulations can be put in place to protect the new colony and the resources found there? Why are rules and environmental regulation important when using resources?